A lotter was read from Mr. E. H. Nash expressing sympathy with the objects of the meeting.

SHOULD FRONT BY KERRENCE.

Mr. Pollard offered the following: While we do not disparage the ability, patriotism, and public services of any cultan, yet being deeply impressed with the conscious conviction that in order to produce harmony as to the platform of our party, and to secure the earnest support of party leaders and party workers, alke essential to party success, it would be unwise to yield to the demands of the independent voters without and the sontinental once with in our party, and repeat the experiment of 1888.

We therefore invite all who concur in this conviction, and who believe with us that party success should be placed ahead of personal preference, to co-operate with us and seek by organized effort to send to the Democratic State Convention delegates who will reflect these sentiments.

the Weather—The Features.

The rain which steadily pattered down upon the roof of the Masonic Temple last night did not prevent another large crowd from assembling in the Grand-Lodge room of the handsome structure, where the fair is now being held. The attendance, of course, was niso great as on the opening occasion, but the spacious hall was well filled, and those who braved the elements were fully rewarded by the pleasures incident to the evening.

The night was dedicated to Temple Lodge, No. 3, and Joppa Lodge, No. 40, and many representatives from these organizations were present.

Present.

The feature of the evening was the daucing of the minuet, which took place under the supervision of Miss Bertha Lovenstein, assisted by Mrs. Samuel Cohen and Miss Webster. The children who danced acquitted themselves exceedingly well and evoked hearty applause from the spoctators. They were all dressed in colonial costumes and looked as cute as possible. Their names were Walter Kirsh, Emily Raab, Barold S. Bloomberg, Edna Goodman, Hardy Eichel, Resa Straus, Melvin Stern, Mabel Sycle.

Little Misses Lily Schwarzschild and Blanche Semon gave exhibitions of fancy dancing, which were really revelations in the terpsichorean art.

The exhibition of Gaintea (Miss Resalie Mittelderler) continued to attract large crowds, while the lad so of the loc-cream saloon and restaurant were kept busily employed.

Fair Debutants and Pretty School Girls Give a Brilliant German.

Belvidere Hall presented a scene of surpassing radiance and loveliness last night. The fair debutants and charming school girls, who during the winter months have attended the germans of the Junior Club, returned the courtesies they had received at the hands of members of this organization with a brilliant bal pouter. Both ladies and gentlemen, appeared with their hair powdered and cheeks painted. This produced a very striking effect, and every one looked handsome.

In point of attendance and beauty of costumes the ball was one of the most brilliant of the season.

ORJECT OF THE ANTI-GAMBLISG LAW.

The anti-gambling act—better known as the Musoboch anti-gambling law—was almed primarily at Jackson City, near Alexandria (the Monte Carlo of Virginia), where operations similar to those which had been carried on at the Turi Exchange had obtained for a long time. The law, however, proved a preventive that did not prevent. The Monte-Carlo people claimed that it did not inhibit the sending of money on commission to race-tracks to be bet on horses, and were sustained by court decisions. In view of this the Turi-Exchange people determined to adopt Monte-Carlo tactics, and the result—a test case—is given abore.

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

HARRISHURG, PA., April 20.—The Republican State Convention, to nominate a candidate for Supreme-Court Judge, two candidates for congressman-at-large, four electors-at-large, and eight delegates-at-large to the national convention, was called to order by State-Chairman Watres at 10:20 this morning. E. K. Martin, of Lancaster, was made permanent chairman. The platform was read. Great applause greeted the mention of the names of President Harrison and Secretary Biaine.

Mr. Phillips, of Schuylkill, offered as an amendment to the platform a resolution highly laudatory of Senator Quay. Tramendous cheering, mingled with hoots and hisses, followed its reading. A dozen delegates were on their feet demanding recognition, but Mr. Magee, of Pittsburg, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, being nearest the platform, was the first to catch the chairman's eye. The audience was disinclined to listen to Mr. Magee, and continued to call for the adoption of the amendment. Mr. Magee maintained his position, however, and was finally able to make himself heard. He said:

"I want to know what that resolution has to do with the Republican platform in a presidential year. I cannot see." Mr. Magee!" "Magee!" and confusion. Cries of "Quay!" "Quay!" "Magee!" "Magee!" went up from all sides, accompanied by hisses, hooting, and cheers. The matter was finally settled by Mr. Phillips temporarily withdrawing his amendment.

The platform was then adopted as reported, and the confusion was renewed when Mr. Phillips again offered his resolution. He was finally prevailed upon to withdraw it, the objection being to its local character. A conference resulted in the offering by Mr. Phillips of the following: "The earnest public and party services of Matthew Stanley Quay entitle him to the thanks and gratitude of the Republicans of Pennsylvania."

Mr. Magee: "Mr. Chairman, to that resolution I can subscribe with all my heart, and I move its unanimous adoption." It was adopted.

THE PALMETTO RADS.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 20.—The old-line Republican convention, which met here yesterday, spent most of its time in interminable and trivial wrangles. It was late not night before the Committee on Credentials reported, and a permanent organization was effected. Then the wrangling again commenced. An effort to smash the old machine was evident from a resolution that no Federal office-holder be sent as a delegate to the national convention. The resolution was passed, but was afterwards withdrawn. Resolutions were adopted endorsing President Harrison, protection, and reciprocity. At 4.A. M. the balloting for delegates began, and at 7:30 the convention adjourned, having elected as delegates at largel Dr. W. D. Crum, of Charleston, an applicant for the postmastership there; E. H. Deas, of Darlington, a candi-data for Congress two years ago; E. A. Webster, collector of Internal-Revenue, and E. M. Braton, an old-time and well-known leader.

Boston, Mass.. April 20.—The Republican State Convention for the election of four delegates at large and four alternates to the national convention at Minneapolis, June 21st, was held in Tremont Temple to-day. William C. Lovering, of Taunton, was made permanent chairman. The piatform was presented, read, and unanimously adopted. Then the following was adopted with enthusiasm:

"Resolved, That we heartily approve the fearless and dignified policy of the administration of President Benjamin Harrison, who has been so ably assisted in all of his sagacious and loyal endsavors by that noble patriot and statesman, James G. A ballot was taken for delegates at large to the national convention (under the Australian system) and the result was as follows: W. W. Crapo, of New Bedford; W. Indiana for CLEVELAND.

Indiana delegation to the Democratic National Convention will vote for Grover Cleveland for President of the United States. This is the programme agreed upon to-day at a largely attended meeting of prominent supporters of ex-President Cleveland and ex-Governor Gray, and all that the friends of the latter request is that the delegation be commended to vote for Isaac P. Gray when it becomes manifest that Grover Cleveland is not to be the choice of the national convention. This incidental endorsement of Gray as Indiana's favorite son when the nomination of the great Democratic leader shall be no longer considered possible is considered to-night to be a very proper recognition of the claims of the ex-Governor, and there is a general desire that he shall be cordially and carnestly supported by the delegation if the above contingency ever arises. Of course, the Cleveland leaders do not believe that it ever will arise.

A Rothschild Cashier Absconds,

Bening, April 20.—A most decided sensation was caused on the Bourse here to-day by a rejort that Herr Jaeger, chief cashier for the great banking house of the Nothschilds, in Frankfort, was a defaulter. According to this report, Jaeger had succeeded in defrauding his employers of over 1,000,000 marks ($320,000). Inquiries revealed the fact that Jaeger has held the position of chief cashier for seventeen years. He was implicitly trusted, and there has never been the broath of suspicion concerning him. Some time ago he was missing from his post, and as time clapsed and he did not appear a partial cramination of his tooks was made. This resulted in the declaration that he is an abscender. The examination of the books has not yet been concluded, and the exact amount of the defalcation, therefore, is not known. No demai has been made, however, and the statement is made that the stealings will reach not support to marks. The cashier's office is closed, and experts have been employed to examine and revise all the books of the bank. It is said in some quarters that Jaeger knew that his dishonesty would shortly be discovered, and that he has made away with himself. On the other hand, it is claimed that he has the greater part of the stolen money in his possession, and that under an assumed name he is endeavoring to reach a foreign country, most likely the United States.

Sale of Seats for the Patti Concert.

The regular sale of reserved seats for the Patti concert opens at the Academy this morning at Boelock. From the inquiries made at every hand there is reason to believe that some excitement will be created in the desire on the part of the public to got desirable seats. Patti sang last night in Syracuse, N. Y., to the largest flouse ever known. The next stand is Philadelphia, and from thence she and her company come here. Patti travels in aimest regalityle. She has her own special car engaged for her for the entire season. Every possible convenience has been devised to make her journeys as pleasant as possible. Only she and her own suite, consisting of her husband, Signor Nicolini, a companion, Mile Katarina, a maid, a courier, and three colored servants, and a cook occupy her car. Another car is provided for the artists of the company, Mile. Fabbri, the celebraied contraite, is accumpanied by her sister and a maid. The Glenn Benefit.

The performance at the Theatre to-night by Klevesahl's Minstrels, for the benefit of the widow of Eddie Glenn, Richmond's famous base-ball player, will doubtiese be largely attended. It is surely one of the kind of entertaiments that deserves encouragement, both because of the worthiness of the beneficiary and the excellence of the company. There is a sentiment surrounding the untimely death of the hall-player that arouses much sympathy for his young widow, and this will doubtiess induce many to buy tickets who would not otherwise do so. But, sentiment aside; the performance will be well worth seeing. Some of the best local singers are in the company, and an evening of genuine enjoyment may be expected.

California Shaken Again.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

San Francisco, April 20.—Vacaville and the adjoining sections of the State, which were scenes of disaster resulting from the earth-quake of Monday, were again seismically visited last night and early this morning, though the shocks were less intense than those of the preceding night. In some sections other natural phenomena accompanied the shocks last night. The teople are commencing to clear away the debris and repair their buildings. The general sentiment is in favor of more secure foundations and thicker walls, many of the brick buildings destroyed being of comparative-injunction of the comparative in the company of the brick buildings destroyed being of comparative junsubstantial construction. No one was soriously injured in any of the four towns which suffered from the earthquake.

A story is published in Birmingham, Ala., to the effect that a mamuoth deal is pending looking to the consolidation of the vast properties of the Cahaba Coal-Mining Company, the Exceller Company, the Pioneer Mining and Manufacturing, and the Woodward Iron Company with the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the De Bardeleben Coal and Iron Company, which last two were recently combined. After a road-machine contest at Hanover Courthouse yesterday, in which the "Western Reversible," manufactured by the Western Reversible, manufactured by the Western Wheel and Scraper Company of Aurora, Ill., competed, the Supervisors (Colonel William F. Wickham chairman) purchased two of the Western. A thorough test was made, and it was apparent to the judges that the Western was the lightest draught, the easiest operated, and best for general road-making. It is especially suited for working guilled roads and wash-out places, and all who witnessed the contest were delighted with the rapid manner in which it did its work.

These machines are a great improvement over the old method of working highways, being capable of building from one to one and a half miles of road per day, and other counties would find it economy to follow the example of old Hanover. A few of these machines in each county would do a vast deal in inducing immigrants to old Virginia.

Other counties wishing to purchase the "Western" will address Theodore Pennock general agent. Kennett Square, Pa never can have any but momentary success. A handful of truth is worth a barrel of exaggerations. All that we care to have known about our Suits you can easily find out for yourself. We simply want to venture one assertion concerning them; you can get better for your money nowhere. We might go a little further and say you cannot get as good, and we are perfectly willing to leave that proposition to the decision of the most competent expert you can find, but about stories has longest in the memory, so we repeat; You can get better for your money nowhere.
